QUESTION 23 Poor now

Stress genuinely and try to avoid facetiousness at this point. Question 23 (a) explores what the informant understands by feeling "poor". If the word "poor" seems inappropriate use the alternative "very hard up".

QUESTION 24 Poverty

Stress the word "poverty". Do not explain what you think it means if you are asked. Seek from the informant his definition and write it in the box as clearly as you can.

QUESTION 25 Voting

Ask for those old enough to have voted in the last election (March 1965). We are not concerned who they voted for (although they will probably say) but would like to know if they are sufficiently involved to vote at all. Be careful to reassure people that this is confidential and as far as you are concerned non-voting is blameless—many people consider that voting is legally compulsory or morally obligatory and so voting figures are over-estimated. Try to get a clear recollection by fixing the incident (time of day, who they went with) if necessary. Stress National, not local elections.

QUESTION 26 Action on poverty

We are interested in what the informant thinks can be done. Give as full an answer as possible.

Please write in any additional notes.

Respondent lives in a tiny 'colony' sandwiched between recently demolished property to make a car park and tenement property running off a busy thoroughfare. She is a cheerful, stout small person, very passive, gregarious and extremely diffident about the interview, which was twice interrupted by neighbours (both elderly) dropping in on their way home (including the Indian gentleman who gives her work). The kitchen is fairly clean and very bare. Respondent herself was rather unfrisk. Bedroom not seen. In view of her income level, I showed her an S.P.1 and suggested she might care to apply. This was completed and posted after the interview. This property is also said to be coming down to be included in the car park. On the one hand, respondent is living a very deprived life - hardly goes out (bad legs, little inclination), eats little, no T.V., no family life. On the other hand, the other elderly individuals around her seem to live very much with one another, so that they can turn to one another for company & support.
