QUESTION 23 Poor now

Stress genuinely and try to avoid facetiousness at this point. Question 23 (a) explores what the informant understands by feeling "poor". If the word "poor" seems inappropriate use the alternative "very hard up".

QUESTION 24 Poverty

Stress the word "poverty". Do not explain what you think it means if you are asked. Seek from the informant his definition and write it in the box as clearly as you can.

QUESTION 25 Voting

Ask for those old enough to have voted in the last election (March 1965). We are not concerned who they voted for (although they will probably say) but would like to know if they are sufficiently involved to vote at all. Be careful to reassure people that this is confidential and as far as you are concerned non-voting is blameless—many people consider that voting is legally compulsory or morally obligatory and so voting figures are over-estimated. Try to get a clear recollection by fixing the incident (time of day, who they went with) if necessary. Stress National, not local elections.

QUESTION 26 Action on poverty

We are interested in what the informant thinks can be done. Give as full an answer as possible.

Please write in any additional notes.

This young couple live in a Victorian terraced house, let out to 4 house holds. The neighbourhood is slightly decaying but genteel, without much community sense, and they ^{seem to} live relatively isolated lives.

Their sitting room is simply and attractively furnished with bright clear colours, modern suite, vivid orange slamon wall, lots of white paint. No books or views. Piano.

They are seriously considering moving back to Newcastle, and have been looking at houses on the new estates there, but say those they like are too expensive. They miss their relatives and consider the 150 mile trip worth making at least once a month.

Refreshingly direct and open about class, very unpretentious generally. Husband says the odd hour a two of overtime is expected from him unpaid, but he got his extra week's holiday by working till 9.30 pm.

for 4 weeks at a stretch without overtime payment. Wife was very critical of the uncomfortable chair she has to use while typing ^{ref} the poor lighting because the ^{faulty} fluorescent tube needs repairing.
