 26. If there is poverty what do you think can be done about it?

WRITE IN ANSWER

I think there should be a system of direct grants to certain types of families who probably cannot be socially re-educated... perhaps this would start in the next generation.

QUESTION 23 Poor now

Stress genuinely and try to avoid facetiousness at this point. Question 23 (a) explores what the informant understands by feeling "poor". If the word "poor" seems inappropriate use the alternative "very hard up".

QUESTION 24 Poverty

Stress the word "poverty". Do not explain what you think it means if you are asked. Seek from the informant his definition and write it in the box as clearly as you can.

QUESTION 25 Voting

Ask for those old enough to have voted in the last election (March 1965). We are not concerned who they voted for (although they will probably say) but would like to know if they are sufficiently involved to vote at all. Be careful to reassure people that this is confidential and as far as you are concerned non-voting is blameless—many people consider that voting is legally compulsory or morally obligatory and so voting figures are over-estimated. Try to get a clear recollection by fixing the incident (time of day, who they went with) if necessary. Stress National, not local elections.

QUESTION 26 Action on poverty

We are interested in what the informant thinks can be done. Give as full an answer as possible.

Please write in any additional notes.

This household lives in the ~~upper~~ ^{first} flat of a terraced villa in a quiet cul-de-sac running uphill off a main thoroughfare in the fringe of an upper middle class residential district. The street is slightly decaying Victorian in character, lots of children.

Informant is an intelligent and attractive girl: Emma is very outgoing and well-developed: the baby went down somewhat through the tropics on the voyage to Scotland and was susceptible to colds last winter but now looks well & happy: she played quietly next door for most of the interview. The husband was sleeping at first call. He hopes to study Chinese next term at Edinburgh University. (Now confirmed.)

The flat is cheap for this district but modestly furnished: the young couple have begun to use their own furniture in the bed-sitting room, which has only a large brass bedstead, the refectory table & chairs and a large duvetella mattress on the floor covered with a blanket where they sit.

The husband's mother is a prominent local Labour councillor. Her job just learned that, as he has been out of Scotland for 8 years, he does not qualify for a grant, though he has got a place at the Univ. for next term. In the circumstances, he intends to work 3 nights a week, if this is possible, on the paper.

This was a very pleasant young couple, very co-operative, interested in the survey. The grandmother, incidentally, was the councillor I approached for the family in diff. circles in West Kilbride.
