QUESTION 23 Poor now

Stress genuinely and try to avoid facetiousness at this point. Question 23 (a) explores what the informant understands by feeling "poor". If the word "poor" seems inappropriate use the alternative "very hard up".

QUESTION 24 Poverty

Stress the word "poverty". Do not explain what you think it means if you are asked. Seek from the informant his definition and write it in the box as clearly as you can.

QUESTION 25 Voting

Ask for those old enough to have voted in the last election (March 1965). We are not concerned who they voted for (although they will probably say) but would like to know if they are sufficiently involved to vote at all. Be careful to reassure people that this is confidential and as far as you are concerned non-voting is blameless—many people consider that voting is legally compulsory or morally obligatory and so voting figures are over-estimated. Try to get a clear recollection by fixing the incident (time of day, who they went with) if necessary. Stress National, not local elections.

QUESTION 26 Action on poverty

We are interested in what the informant thinks can be done. Give as full an answer as possible.

Please write in any additional notes.

Inf. lives in two small rooms, from which she has removed the "semi-furnished" pieces, bath approx 10 x 10 ft., bath facing south-east with a fine view to the hills. There is no passage, and a tiny kitchenette and no privacy at the top of the stairs—only a curtain. The bathroom is on first floor.

The sitting room has a mottled red filled carpet (secondary quality) and a small grey sofa (fairly modern) 2 matching chairs, a coffee table, a small rocking chair & a small TV set. Not one picture, photograph, ornament, book, plant, etc. Yet the decor is pleasant and the total effect is homely.

Inf. is a smart slightly brassy woman, with well-set short hair, a stylish summer frock & make-up, who enjoys her work and likes "living out." She left her previous job after 8 years when the owners retired & the brewers took over, saying she was tired of living on the job. She feels income tax is heavy on the single woman, spends all she earns, is very fond of the theatre opera, and has her one meal of the day each evening.

She works in a handsome club, mainly non-resident in central Edinburgh, no longer only for the Regiment, which is run by the Trustees. Informant says the catering is very lavish & is well-subsidised. She is assisted by two assistant cooks and a kitchen hand, and they serve about 300 lunches daily. For banquets, special dinners, etc. she comes back to work at night. The housekeeper does all the ordering but otherwise she is satisfied though she misses the direct contacts with the residents which she enjoyed in her previous job.
