QUESTION 23 Poor now

Stress genuinely and try to avoid facetiousness at this point. Question 23 (a) explores what the informant understands by feeling "poor". If the word "poor" seems inappropriate use the alternative "very hard up".

QUESTION 24 Poverty

Stress the word "poverty". Do not explain what you think it means if you are asked. Seek from the informant his definition and write it in the box as clearly as you can.

QUESTION 25 Voting

Ask for those old enough to have voted in the last election (March 1965). We are not concerned who they voted for (although they will probably say) but would like to know if they are sufficiently involved to vote at all. Be careful to reassure people that this is confidential and as far as you are concerned non-voting is blameless—many people consider that voting is legally compulsory or morally obligatory and so voting figures are over-estimated. Try to get a clear recollection by fixing the incident (time of day, who they went with) if necessary. Stress National, not local elections.

QUESTION 26 Action on poverty

We are interested in what the informant thinks can be done. Give as full an answer as possible.

Please write in any additional notes.

This old lady was a bright-eyed intelligent person who lived in a thatched cottage adjoining her husband's one time black smith shop. The place was badly cleaned and far from sweet-smelling and her ferocious dog who had to be locked up before she could let me in seemed to have the use of the entire place tables, chairs etc. It was badly lit and had a deep step from the living room into the kitchen. This was in a very rural area now favoured by Bham businessmen. The house next door a couple of fields away had a swimming pool, attached and other exhibits of wealthy indulgence. Such made the question of you about the same as your neighbours' ring hollow! Her housekeeping arrangement was that her money was paid out in food bills plus what she tried to put aside for rates, coal, light etc plus Xmas. There was no need to budget much little to play with she said. Her visits out were rare for there was no old people's club she thought and the Vicar who lived just up the road had never seen her as he had never called since she buried her husband. I must say a fairness that her dog has been known to tear people's clothes and attack them when people have called. I found his snarl and crashy against the door somewhat along myself. It took 2 hrs <sup>or there</sup> for this interview as she was eager to chat and I felt I must chat back to her.
