QUESTION 23 Poor now

Stress genuinely and try to avoid facetiousness at this point. Question 23 (a) explores what the informant understands by feeling "poor". If the word "poor" seems inappropriate use the alternative "very hard up".

QUESTION 24 Poverty

Stress the word "poverty". Do not explain what you think it means if you are asked. Seek from the informant his definition and write it in the box as clearly as you can.

QUESTION 25 Voting

Ask for those old enough to have voted in the last election (March 1965). We are not concerned who they voted for (although they will probably say) but would like to know if they are sufficiently involved to vote at all. Be careful to reassure people that this is confidential and as far as you are concerned non-voting is blameless—many people consider that voting is legally compulsory or morally obligatory and so voting figures are over-estimated. Try to get a clear recollection by fixing the incident (time of day, who they went with) if necessary. Stress National, not local elections.

QUESTION 26 Action on poverty

We are interested in what the informant thinks can be done. Give as full an answer as possible.

Please write in any additional notes.

My house is a real "Fogies Establishment" in fact - a child's paradise - the room reeked of urine and on my first visit I found my feet in a puddle of it, the house is falling to bits - the front door has a hole in it big enough for the enormous albatross (who didn't stop growling at me) to climb through, of the two glass panels at the top of the door - a third of the glass remained in tact - some cardboard covered covered one gap - the "net curtain" blew out of the other one. The children's friends seem to come a lot - there were two outsiders while I was there - the 'easy come easy go' atmosphere must be a very strong draw to the local children. I've seen completely unaware of the noise of seven children, blowing television & various bangings.
