QUESTION 23 Poor now

Stress genuinely and try to avoid facetiousness at this point. Question 23 (a) explores what the informant understands by feeling "poor". If the word "poor" seems inappropriate use the alternative "very hard up".

QUESTION 24 Poverty

Stress the word "poverty". Do not explain what you think it means if you are asked. Seek from the informant his definition and write it in the box as clearly as you can.

QUESTION 25 Voting

Ask for those old enough to have voted in the last election (March 1965). We are not concerned who they voted for (although they will probably say) but would like to know if they are sufficiently involved to vote at all. Be careful to reassure people that this is confidential and as far as you are concerned non-voting is blameless—many people consider that voting is legally compulsory or morally obligatory and so voting figures are over-estimated. Try to get a clear recollection by fixing the incident (time of day, who they went with) if necessary. Stress National, not local elections.

QUESTION 26 Action on poverty

We are interested in what the informant thinks can be done. Give as full an answer as possible.

Please write in any additional notes.

This was a very easy interview to obtain - with a very charming, glib old lady - almost 80 years old. She produced her pension books and post office bank book for inspection.

She told me that although she "managed" fine week to week she had no money for replacements of household goods she had used. I advised her to contact her social security office and ask for a special allowance. I can't help feeling that such cases as this should be visited by social security officers every now & again so that help of this kind could be forthcoming.

Although she appears to fall into your category of borderline disabled - I saw no tangible evidence of this that would not be consistent with her age.
